

Bringing the Curriculum to Life

One School One Meal One Family

One School, One Meal, One Family

Chapelwood Elementary received a WTEF grant to purchase books that are realistic fiction relating to food insecurity. The books help teach essential skills including kindness, perseverance, and empathy. Teachers are making connections between the texts and character traits that build understanding and empathy.

New CPR Dog for Area 31

A new CPR dog mannequin named Chloe is helping students in the Area 31 EMS program learn how to treat and transport canine officers injured in the line of duty. The mannequin was purchased with help from the Tyler Humphrey Memorial Fund, an endowed fund of the Wayne Township Education Foundation. Read More...

Author Visit Makes Lit Come Alive

Lynhurst's Lana Reeser is keeping reading exciting. She brought author John David Anderson to school for a two-day visit. Listening to Anderson's presentation helped students connect with his popular work. Plus he autographed books after the presentation - something that wouldn't have been possible without help from WTEF. Read More...

Experiential learning is at the heart of the teacher innovation funded by WTEF. WTEF helps students experience the world through cultural programs, hands-on experiences, trips to places outside their neighborhood, and mentorship. This Spring our special focus is on recognizing teacher and student excellence and providing free access for families to experiences like Honk The Musical.
